Extract from the Constitution and Rules

The objectives of the SACESHA:

- To obtain, deliberate and formulate comments, on all new technology, legislation as well as regular review of current issues on all aspects relating to Safety, Environmental, Ventilation and Occupational Hygiene;
- To inform, advise and recommend corrective action to employers on all such aspects of importance, which will be affecting the coal mining industry.
- To maintain and grow a vibrant colliery networking forum where the practical aspects and implications of legal requirements can be debated.

Membership:

- Ordinary members: Members of the Association shall consist of all SHE practitioners on a colliery, coal processing plant, mining head office and coal mining service providers*. Applications will be approved by Council on a written application supported by two (2) members. Once ordinary membership is granted the member will retain this membership status until retirement from the Associations.

coal mining service provider means people working directly for a colliery, excluding suppliers of a "product"*

- Associate members: Associate members shall consist of members in an occupation related to the Association, SHE practitioners in training and coal mining suppliers*. Applications will be considered for approval by Council on a written application supported by two (2) members. Associate members may not serve on Council or vote.

coal mining suppliers means people that deliver products*

- Honorary life membership: Retired Council members of long standing, who may be regarded as a special person who has promoted SACESHA.

Please complete the form and Email to the SACESHA Secretary, Mrs. Elaine Govender using the contact details in the header of this document.
